

PROTECT THE FUTURE OF NATURAL MEDICINE IN AUSTRALIA

November 2015

All forms of natural medicine are under attack in Australia. Gaining representation on the floor of the Senate will make a significant difference by ensuring natural medicines are represented accurately and fairly at a Federal level, where key decisions are made regarding their ongoing existence or demise.

In 2016 we are going to do everything we can to ensure this representation happens, and we need your help.

Key Actions to Date

- ⇒ Transitioned an existing political party in to the Health Australia Party (HAP).
- ⇒ Formed a National Executive and a Council of Advisors comprising industry and professional leaders (visit www.healthaustraliaparty.com.au for more information)
- ⇒ Established 3 state branches, with more to follow.
- ⇒ Expanded the concept of health to also include a healthy economy, healthy environment, healthy democracy and healthy society.
- ⇒ Developed a substantial automated database to allow rapid accumulation of interested individuals.
- ⇒ Written a Preamble and Constitution that reflects our position as a truly non-partisan centre party who values the rights of all Australians, particularly our right to choose our preferred method of health care.

“All forms of natural medicine are under attack in Australia. Some colleagues and I believe gaining representation on the floor of the Senate can make a difference. You can help us achieve this by joining the Health Australia Party (HAP) at www.healthaustraliaparty.com.au”

- Dr Isaac Golden

“It is my firm belief that the Health Australia Party will play an important future role in the development of the natural medicine profession in Australia”

- Professor Kerry Bone

What You Can Do

- ✎ Go to www.healthaustraliaparty.com.au and learn more about who we are
- ✎ Become a Member or friend of HAP
- ✎ Tell your friends, family and/or patients about HAP and encourage them to become a Member or friend

We need to act as a united force to protect Australians health and our future
